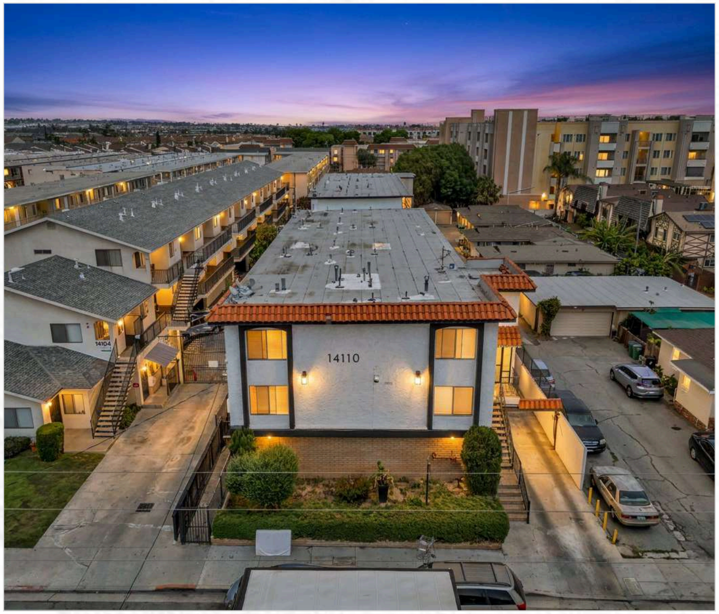
SECTION 1

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

14110 Yukon Ave, Hawthorne CA 90250



Offered at $7,640,000, the existing property already generates strong in-place cash flow with an approximately 6.5% current cap rate and 10.26 GRM. The newer 1974-built, 28 unit renovtated in 2024, inplace cash flow asset, contains approximately 18,310 square feet on a substantial 19,196- square-foot lot, with 33 on-site parking spaces and a unit mix of 24 one-bedroom and four two-bedroom apartments.

The Real Opportunity: 43 Units + 8% Cap RateThe defining investment story is the property's 15-unit ADU expansion potential. Bydeveloping 7 attached ADUs and 8 detached ADUs, an investor has theopportunity to increase the unit count by more than 50%—from 28 units to 43 units—without acquiring additional land.

Upon completion of the proposed ADU program, the property is projected to generate an approximately:

- 8.0% Cap Rate after ADU construction costs
- 8.73 GRM
- 43 total units

Approximately $230,000 per door based on the expanded unit count
This creates an opportunity to acquire a stabilized South Bay multifamily asset at a basis that is extremely difficult to replicate through either conventional acquisitions or ground-up development.
The property is also strategically located within Hawthorne's major employment corridor, surrounded by some of Southern California's most significant aerospace, technology and entertainment employers, including SpaceX, Tesla, Intuit Dome, SoFi Stadium, YouTube Theater and Kia Forum.

14110 Yukon offers investors something increasingly rare in Los Angeles multifamily: strong cash flow on day one, a sub-10.26 GRM, an approximately 6.5% going-in cap rate, and a clearly defined path to 43 units, an approximately 8.67% stabilized cap rate and an exceptionally low per-unit basis.

LOCATION OVERVIEW - HAWTHORNE

Hawthorne, CA

Located within the vibrant 90250 zip code, Hawthorne is a diverse South Bay city celebrated for its central location and strong connectivity. Hawthorne attracts young professionals, working families, and a multicultural workforce, with a population of nearly 86,000, a median age of 33.6, and median household income around $73,000.

The city's housing is predominantly rental, with 72-75% of households renting, many in multifamily properties that comprise over half of the total units, reflecting robust and sustained demand. Hawthorne offers excellent access to I-105 and I-405 freeways, Metro light rail, and proximity to LAX, providing effortless commutes to Silicon Beach tech hubs and major aerospace employers including SpaceX headquarters, Northrop Grumman, and Boeing in nearby El Segundo, as well as downtown Los Angeles and coastal areas.

Residents enjoy a Mediterranean climate, nearby parks like Holly Glen and Del Aire, local retail and dining, and short drives to Manhattan Beach. Families benefit from the Hawthorne School District and community events that foster a welcoming atmosphere. Hawthorne blends urban convenience with suburban appeal, positioning it as a prime choice for renters and investors seeking stability in the South Bay multifamily market.

Location Highlights

Diverse South Bay community featuring a mix of multifamily and single-family homes, with a strong renter presence supported by a stable residential market.

Convenient access to major local employers including SpaceX headquarters, Ring Headquarters, Northrop Grumman, and other aerospace and technology firms.

Well-connected by major freeways (I-105, I-405) and Metro light rail (C Line via Hawthorne/Lennox station), providing efficient transit access to LAX, Downtown Los Angeles, Silicon Beach, and coastal employment hubs.

Part of the economically vibrant South Bay region, surrounded by key job centers in El Segundo, Torrance, and the LAX corridor, fueling residential demand and growth.

Access to quality schools within the Hawthorne School District and a range of community parks and amenities supporting family-friendly living.

HAWTHORNE LOCAL ECONOMY

> "Hub of the South Bay."

Hawthorne's economy is anchored by a diverse and robust employment base that spans aerospace, technology, logistics, retail, and service industries throughout the South Bay corridor. A standout feature of the local economy is the presence of SpaceX headquarters at 1 Rocket Road, serving as a major employer with cutting-edge aerospace and space exploration activities, advanced manufacturing, and R&D for reusable rockets and satellite systems. Nearby, Tesla's Design Center supports vehicle prototyping and innovation, further enhancing Hawthorne's reputation as a hub for groundbreaking technology companies. Additionally, Hawthorne is home to Ring, the smart security company headquartered in the city, which contributes to the area's expanding technology and innovation ecosystem.

Local Economy

Beyond SpaceX, Hawthorne benefits from proximity to major aerospace and defense firms such as Northrop Grumman (with facilities in Hawthorne and key campuses in nearby Redondo Beach and El Segundo) and Raytheon (RTX) in El Segundo, alongside emerging tech firms contributing to a vibrant economic ecosystem. The city sits strategically just south of the growing Silicon Beach tech cluster, featuring high-profile technology and creative companies in nearby Playa Vista and Santa Monica.

Hawthorne's proximity to major employment centers in El Segundo (Boeing, defense contractors), Torrance (diverse manufacturing and corporate headquarters), and the LAX corridor (logistics, aviation) further strengthens its appeal as a residential destination for workers in these high-wage sectors.

This diverse employment landscape draws a wide range of residents who value short commutes and easy access to some of Southern California's most important job hubs. The blend of aerospace, tech, logistics, and corporate employment underpins steady demand for housing in Hawthorne, supporting a stable renter base and ongoing multifamily investment potential.

Hawthorne Transport Network

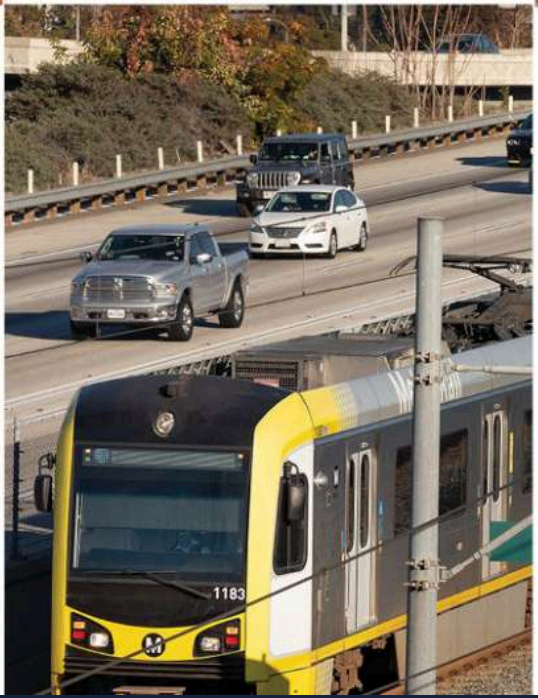
Hawthorne benefits from a well-developed transportation network, offering seamless connectivity across the South Bay and greater Los Angeles area. The city's access to major freeways and nearby Metro light rail lines enables convenient and efficient travel options for residents and commuters. This strong infrastructure facilitates easy access to popular cultural, recreational, and commercial destinations throughout the region. Additionally, proximity to LAX, downtown Los Angeles, and coastal areas enhances the lifestyle appeal and accessibility of the area.

MAJOR FREEWAYS

Hawthorne offers prime access to major freeways I-105 and I-405, enabling quick commutes to LAX, downtown Los Angeles, Long Beach, and surrounding areas. This connectivity enhances convenience for residents and commuters alike.

BUS LINES

Multiple local bus lines, including GTrans Line 5 along the I-105 corridor through Hawthorne, Gardena, and Compton, plus LA Metro routes, provide frequent service connecting neighborhoods, transit hubs, and LAX.



METRO C LINE

The Hawthorne/Lennox Station on the Metro C Line provides fast, frequent service connecting Hawthorne across the South Bay to LAX, Redondo Beach, Inglewood, and Norwalk. This offers residents reliable public transit options, reducing commute times and providing a convenient alternative to driving.

Hollywood Park

Hollywood Park is a premier 300-acre mixed-use development on the historic site of the former Hollywood Park Racetrack. Just an 8-minute drive away from the property, it serves as a major regional hub for sports, entertainment, and lifestyle, anchored by SoFi Stadium, which hosts NFL games for the Los Angeles Rams and Chargers and large-scale events including concerts and the Super Bowl. Next to SoFi Stadium is the Intuit Dome, the state-of-the-art home arena for the NBA's Los Angeles Clippers, alongside the YouTube Theater, a versatile venue for concerts and performances.

Beyond sports and entertainment, Hollywood Park features lush public spaces with 25 acres of parks and 12 miles of walking and biking trails that enhance community connectivity and outdoor recreation. The development includes a vibrant mix of luxury residential neighborhoods, premier retail and dining options, and modern office spaces, establishing a dynamic live-work-play environment. Strategically located just 3 miles from LAX, it offers easy access to urban amenities and job centers, making it a key lifestyle destination in the South Bay region.
