This four-unit multifamily property presents an attractive immediate value-add opportunity in a desirable pocket of Inglewood. Family owned and operated for the past 17 years, the property offers new ownership the ability to immediately execute a renovation strategy, with three units to be delivered vacant at close of escrow. These units provide a unique opportunity for a new owner to renovate and reposition the units toward market rental rates while enhancing the overall quality and value of the asset. The property features an attractive unit mix consisting of one 3-bedroom/2-bath townhome and three 1-bedroom/1-bath units.

The property also offers potential future development upside through the addition of Accessory Dwelling Units (ADUs), providing new ownership with an additional avenue for increasing rental income, property value, and long-term appreciation potential. Buyer to independently verify the feasibility, permitting requirements, and applicability of any ADU development.

Ideally situated in a desirable pocket of Inglewood, the property benefits from a Walk Score of 87, classified as "Very Walkable," providing residents with convenient access to employment centers, retail, dining, and entertainment throughout Inglewood and surrounding markets. The property is also conveniently located near LAX, SoFi Stadium, Intuit Dome, Hollywood Park, major employment centers, and several major freeways, providing residents with excellent connectivity throughout Los Angeles.

Offered at an attractive 7.27% CAP rate on scheduled income, the property provides investors with a compelling combination of current cash flow and significant value-add potential. With three units available for immediate renovation, potential ADU upside, a strong long-term ownership history, and a highly desirable Inglewood location, the property represents an excellent opportunity to acquire and reposition a well-located multifamily asset while creating meaningful long-term value.

Inglewood

Located in the heart of Los Angeles County, Inglewood, California, is a dynamic and evolving city known for its central location, strong community identity, and growing prominence as a destination for sports, entertainment, and business. Home to approximately 100,000 residents, Inglewood combines established residential neighborhoods with significant new investment and development.

The real estate market in Inglewood offers a diverse mix of housing, including single-family residences, multifamily properties, condominiums, and newer developments. The city's relatively central location within the Los Angeles metropolitan area, along with continued investment in infrastructure and amenities, has contributed to sustained interest from residents, investors, and developers.

Residents of Inglewood enjoy access to numerous parks, recreational facilities, and community amenities. Edward Vincent Jr. Park is one of the city's largest public spaces, offering athletic fields, playgrounds, walking areas, and other recreational facilities. Inglewood's location also provides convenient access to the beaches of the South Bay and many of Southern California's outdoor attractions.

Shopping and dining options are found throughout the city, from long-standing neighborhood businesses to newer retail and restaurant concepts. Inglewood's central commercial corridors provide residents with everyday conveniences, while nearby destinations in Westchester, Culver City, the South Bay, and greater Los Angeles further expand the area's dining, shopping, and entertainment options.

Inglewood has emerged as one of Southern California's most significant sports and entertainment destinations. SoFi Stadium, home to the Los Angeles Rams and Los Angeles Chargers, anchors the Hollywood Park development and hosts major sporting events, concerts, and entertainment programming. The nearby Intuit Dome, home to the Los Angeles Clippers, further strengthens the city's position as a premier regional entertainment hub.

The city's economy benefits from its strategic location near major employment centers throughout Los Angeles County. Inglewood is conveniently situated near Los Angeles International Airport, the Westside, South Bay, and Downtown Los Angeles, with access to major freeways and public transportation providing connectivity throughout the region.

Ongoing investment in and around Inglewood has brought new infrastructure, commercial development, entertainment venues, and public improvements to the area. At the same time, the city retains the established neighborhoods and community character that have defined Inglewood for generations.

In summary, Inglewood offers a compelling combination of central Los Angeles County access, established residential neighborhoods, major entertainment destinations, and continued investment. Its proximity to employment centers, transportation, shopping, dining, and some of the region's most prominent new developments makes it an increasingly notable place to live, work, and invest in Southern California.

County Overview

145 W Hillcrest Blvd,
Inglewood, CA 90301

Los Angeles

Los Angeles County is the most heavily populated county with approximately 9.9 million people, including about 1 million that live in unincorporated areas of the county. The metropolis – formed by the six neighboring counties of Los Angeles, Ventura, Kern, San Bernardino, Riverside, and Orange – is home to approximately 19 million residents. Los Angeles County is home to one of the most educated labor pools in the country and offers a labor force of more than 4.7 million, of which more than 1.5 million are college graduates. Los Angeles County has the largest population of any county in the nation, exceeded only by eight states. According to the United States Conference of Mayors, Los Angeles County boasts a GDP among the twenty largest in the world. Los Angeles County's continued economic growth, in contrast to other areas of the state and nation, is due to its diversified economy and abundant, well-trained workforce.

Los Angeles County is well located on the Southern Coast of California, and covers 4,061 square miles, including the San Clemente and Santa Catalina islands. The county is comprised of approximately 88 vibrant and diverse cities hosting more than 244,000 business establishments – the greatest concentration in the state. Los Angeles County has a Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of approximately $446 billion – placing it among the top 20 economies in the world. The combined GDP of Los Angeles and its five surrounding neighboring counties places it in the top 10. California is generally considered to be in the top five.

If Los Angeles County were its own nation, its economy would be the 18th largest in the world. It is home to more than 244,000 businesses, with more minority and women owned businesses than any other state in the nation and is the nation's top international trade center and manufacturing center. Los Angeles is recognized worldwide as a leader in entertainment, health sciences, business services, aerospace and international trade. Because the Los Angeles area is so large and diverse, it has something to offer everyone. While Hollywood and the Los Angeles beach culture are part of our collective image of Los Angeles, the city also has more museums than any other city and some of the best hotels in the world.
