

Alterations made to this photo

- Two vehicles parked at the curb in front of the property (dark SUV and white pickup) removed; street, curb, sidewalk and parkway tree well behind them digitally filled in.
- Lawn color enhanced: dry and brown areas of the front yard, side yard and rear yard replaced with green grass.
- Picnic table and patio umbrella (with base) removed from the front yard.
- Large gray object on the lawn beside the pine tree, right of the front walkway, removed.

The image labeled "Digitally Altered" has been modified using photo-editing software to add, remove or change elements shown. The unaltered original is shown alongside it for comparison. Basic adjustments to brightness, contrast, color balance, cropping and straightening are not listed unless they noticeably change how part of the property looks. Altered images are for illustrative marketing purposes only; buyers should inspect the property and rely on their own investigation of its actual condition.

Alterations made to this photo

- Lawn color enhanced: dead, dry and bare-dirt areas of the yard between the front house and the rear building (including the long strip along the right-side fence and the patch left of the front walkway) replaced with green grass.
- No other elements were added or removed.

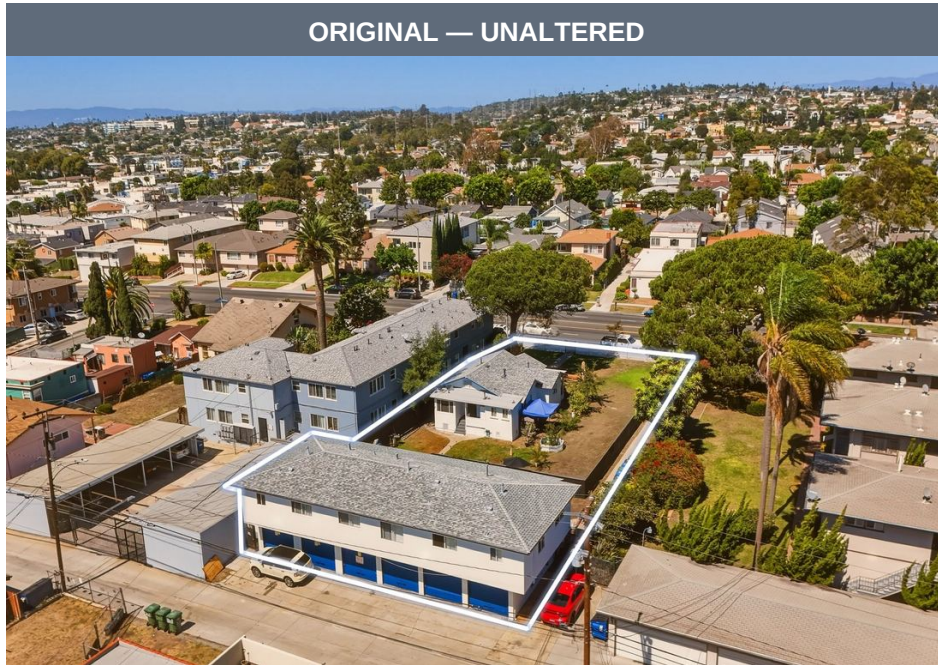

The image labeled "Digitally Altered" has been modified using photo-editing software to add, remove or change elements shown. The unaltered original is shown alongside it for comparison. Basic adjustments to brightness, contrast, color balance, cropping and straightening are not listed unless they noticeably change how part of the property looks. Altered images are for illustrative marketing purposes only; buyers should inspect the property and rely on their own investigation of its actual condition.

Alterations made to this photo

- Lawn color enhanced: dead and dry areas of the lawn within the property outline replaced with green grass.
- No other elements of the property or surroundings were added or removed. The altered version is framed slightly tighter (cropped).
- Both versions carry the same graphic overlays (landmark labels and property outline). These are illustrative annotations; the property outline is approximate and not a survey.

The image labeled "Digitally Altered" has been modified using photo-editing software to add, remove or change elements shown. The unaltered original is shown alongside it for comparison. Basic adjustments to brightness, contrast, color balance, cropping and straightening are not listed unless they noticeably change how part of the property looks. Altered images are for illustrative marketing purposes only; buyers should inspect the property and rely on their own investigation of its actual condition.

Alterations made to this photo

- Lawn color enhanced: dead, dry and bare-dirt areas of the yard within the property outline (including the large area right of the front house and the patches beside the walkway) replaced with green grass.
- No other elements of the property or surroundings were added or removed.
- Both versions carry the same property outline overlay. It is illustrative and approximate, not a survey.

The image labeled "Digitally Altered" has been modified using photo-editing software to add, remove or change elements shown. The unaltered original is shown alongside it for comparison. Basic adjustments to brightness, contrast, color balance, cropping and straightening are not listed unless they noticeably change how part of the property looks. Altered images are for illustrative marketing purposes only; buyers should inspect the property and rely on their own investigation of its actual condition.

ORIGINAL — UNALTERED

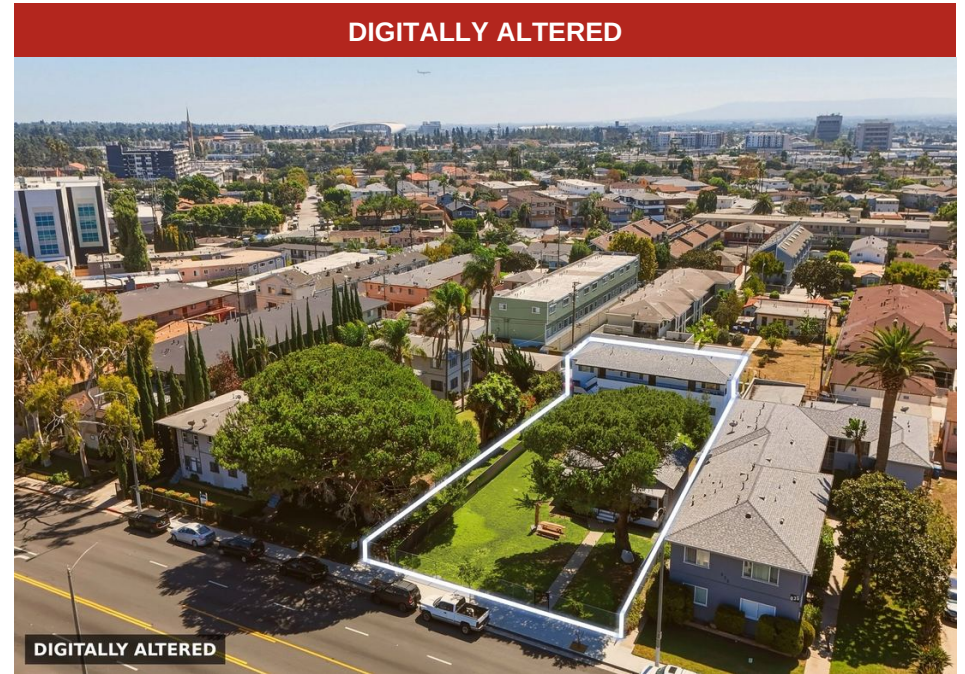

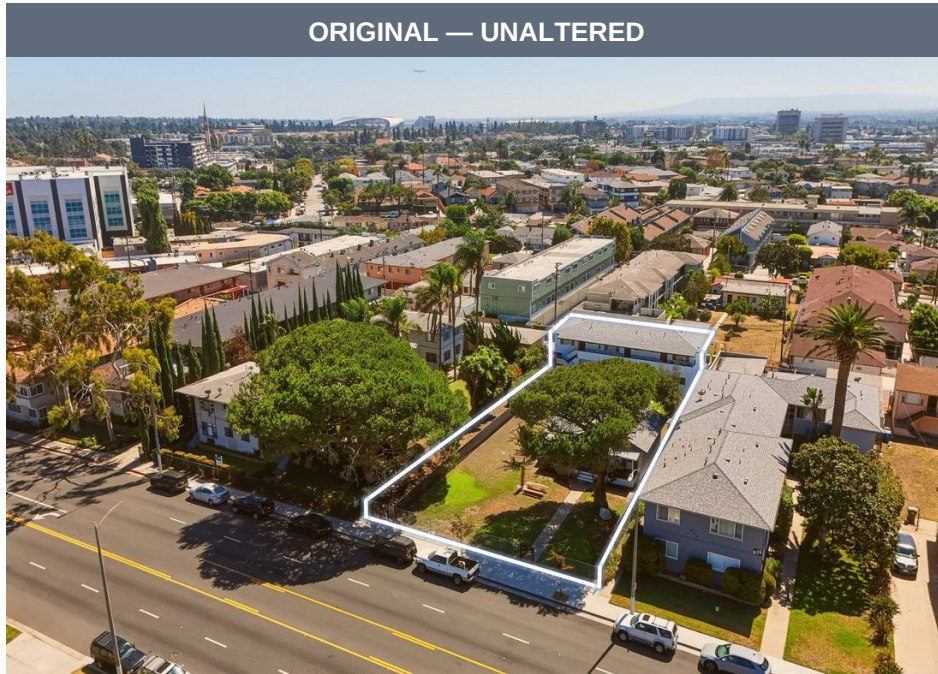

DIGITALLY ALTERED

Alterations made to this photo

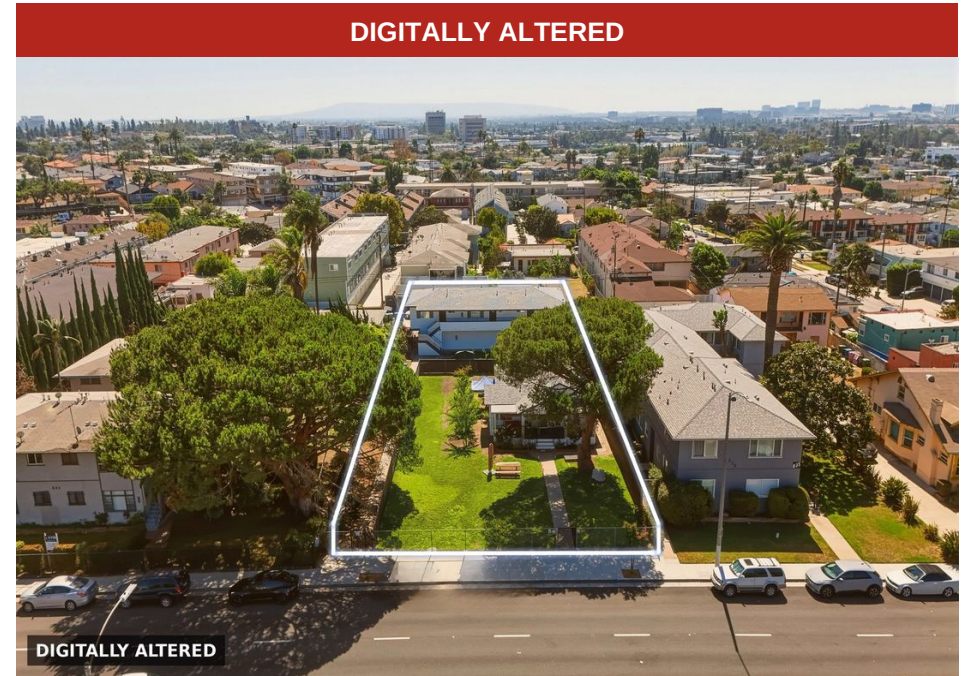

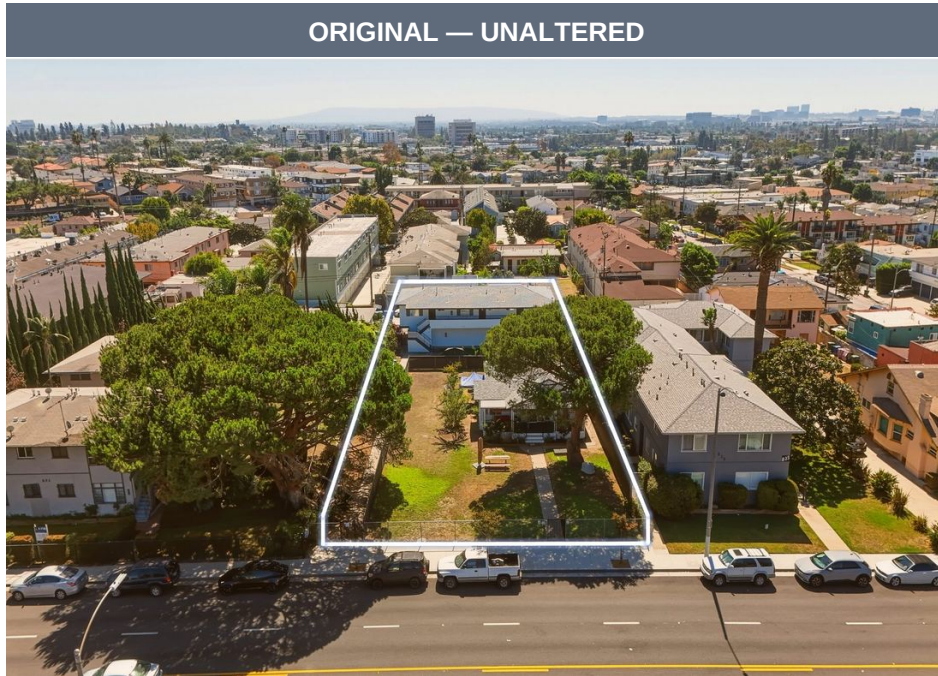

- Lawn color enhanced: dead, dry and bare patches on both sides of the front walkway replaced with green grass.
- Overall brightness and color saturation increased. As a result, the side-yard fence screen, front door and house trim appear a brighter blue than their actual dark navy color.
- No elements were added or removed; the picnic table, umbrella and gray object beside the tree remain as shown in the original.

Alterations made to this photo

- Lawn color enhanced: dead, dry and bare-dirt areas of the front yard within the property outline replaced with green grass.
- No other elements of the property or surroundings were added or removed. The altered version is cropped slightly tighter on the sides and bottom.
- Both versions carry the same property outline overlay. It is illustrative and approximate, not a survey.

The image labeled "Digitally Altered" has been modified using photo-editing software to add, remove or change elements shown. The unaltered original is shown alongside it for comparison. Basic adjustments to brightness, contrast, color balance, cropping and straightening are not listed unless they noticeably change how part of the property looks. Altered images are for illustrative marketing purposes only; buyers should inspect the property and rely on their own investigation of its actual condition.

Alterations made to this photo

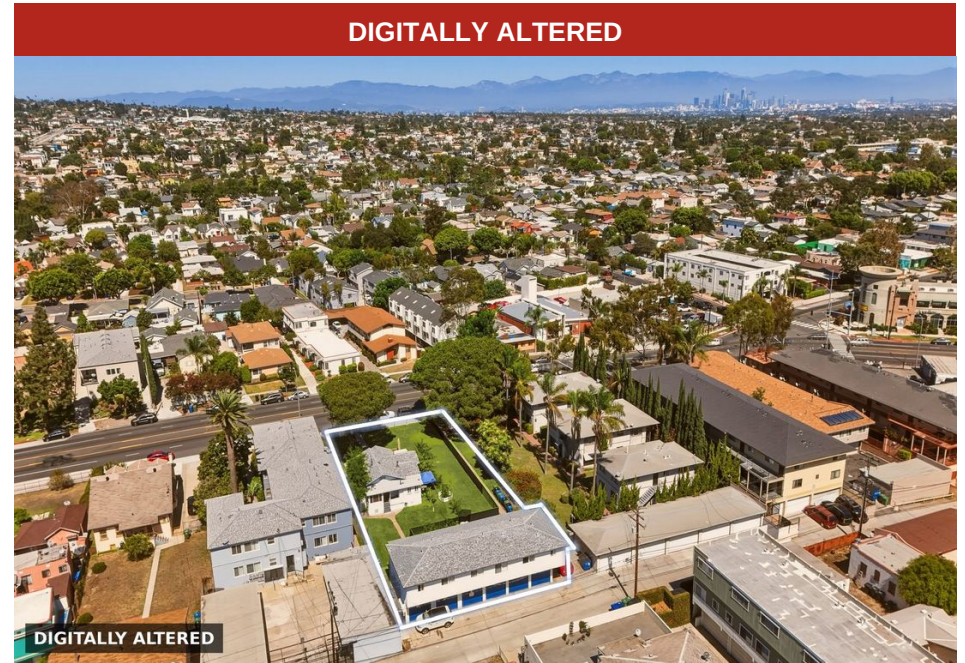

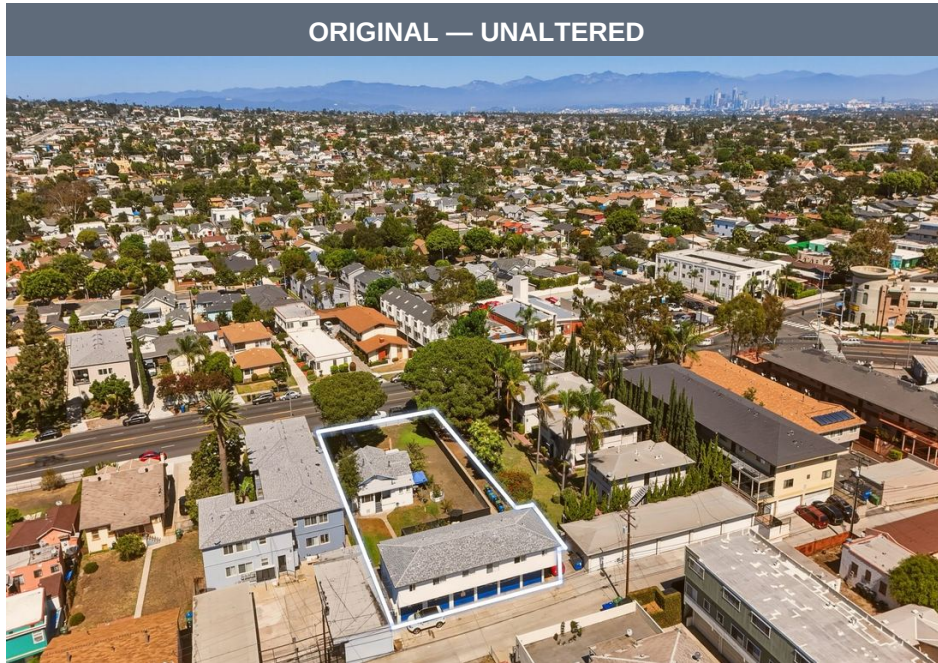

- Two vehicles parked at the curb in front of the property (dark SUV and white pickup) removed; street, curb and sidewalk behind them digitally filled in.
- Lawn color enhanced: dead, dry and bare-dirt areas of the front, side and rear yards within the property outline replaced with green grass.
- No other elements were added or removed. The altered version is cropped slightly tighter at the bottom.
- Both versions carry the same property outline overlay. It is illustrative and approximate, not a survey.

The image labeled "Digitally Altered" has been modified using photo-editing software to add, remove or change elements shown. The unaltered original is shown alongside it for comparison. Basic adjustments to brightness, contrast, color balance, cropping and straightening are not listed unless they noticeably change how part of the property looks. Altered images are for illustrative marketing purposes only; buyers should inspect the property and rely on their own investigation of its actual condition.

Alterations made to this photo

- Lawn color enhanced: dead, dry and bare-dirt areas of the front yard, including the dirt strip along the fence line at the sidewalk, replaced with green grass.
- No elements were added or removed; the picnic table, umbrella, round concrete footing and gray object by the tree remain as shown in the original.

Alterations made to this photo

- Lawn color enhanced: dead, dry and bare-dirt areas of the yards within the property outline (including the long strip along the side fence and the area in front of the rear building) replaced with green grass.
- No other elements of the property or surroundings were added or removed.
- Both versions carry the same property outline overlay. It is illustrative and approximate, not a survey.

The image labeled "Digitally Altered" has been modified using photo-editing software to add, remove or change elements shown. The unaltered original is shown alongside it for comparison. Basic adjustments to brightness, contrast, color balance, cropping and straightening are not listed unless they noticeably change how part of the property looks. Altered images are for illustrative marketing purposes only; buyers should inspect the property and rely on their own investigation of its actual condition.

Alterations made to this photo

- Lawn color enhanced: dead, dry and bare-dirt areas throughout the yard replaced with uniform green grass.
- Overall brightness increased; shaded areas of the house, porch and rear building appear lighter than in the original.
- Small blue ball on the lawn removed.

The image labeled "Digitally Altered" has been modified using photo-editing software to add, remove or change elements shown. The unaltered original is shown alongside it for comparison. Basic adjustments to brightness, contrast, color balance, cropping and straightening are not listed unless they noticeably change how part of the property looks. Altered images are for illustrative marketing purposes only; buyers should inspect the property and rely on their own investigation of its actual condition.