Life on the canals

From the house, the canals run out toward Galveston Bay, the island sits just across the causeway, and bait, boats and supper are all close by.

Out here, “where living on the water is a way of life” is how the city welcomes you, and that’s pretty literal: the canals run behind the houses, so the boat can live out back. Galveston is everyday life, not a day trip, and errands run up the freeway to La Marque and Texas City or up Highway 6 to Hitchcock.

Bayou Vista is its own small city, though the mail goes to Hitchcock. This booklet walks you out the front door the way I would on a tour. Distances are straight lines from the house, so the drive runs a little longer. Hours change, so check before you go!

Bayou Vista City Park, Pavilion and Pool

Bayou Vista keeps its own pool and green space right in town. The grounds are a city family park with a shaded pavilion that is first come, first served unless someone has reserved it. You can also rent it for birthday parties, meetings and family reunions.

Pavilion rentals run by the half day or full day, with lower rates for Bayou Vista residents. The city also rents its community center for parties and other special occasions, to residents and non-residents, and rentals are booked through the City of Bayou Vista at (409) 935-8348. Come summer, the pool is where everybody ends up! Family and individual season passes are sold, with resident, community-neighbor and non-resident rates, and exact change or a pool pass is required at the gate. Original Bayou Vista, Omega Bay and Tiki Island residents get a community-neighbor rate on pool passes. For a morning workout, water aerobics classes meet Monday through Saturday mornings with a separate pass. The pool's phone is (409) 935-2714.

Highland Bayou, the railroad and the blimp base

Long before the canals, this stretch of the county was bayou country, then a railroad stop at Hitchcock, then home to an army camp and a giant blimp hangar.

The Karankawa held this region before the 1820s, and cattle raisers followed. Then Jonas Butler acquired a league of land on Highland Bayou in 1848 and built a house there, followed by French settlers. Hitchcock was first called Highland, for its spot on the high banks of Highland Bayou. The name changed when the tracks arrived. The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway built through in the 1870s and named the stop for Galveston civic leader Lent Munson Hitchcock, and the farm country around the station started shipping its crops. Hitchcock grew as a fruit and vegetable shipping town until truck farming faded after 1920.

Then the soldiers came. Camp Wallace, an Army training camp named for World War I Colonel Elmer J. Wallace, rose on State Highway 6 between Hitchcock and Alta Loma at the start of World War II. The camp later passed to the Navy and helped return veterans to civilian life after the war. Out on the same stretch, the Navy commissioned a blimp base at Hitchcock on May 22, 1943, to watch the coast for enemy submarines. Its giant hangar was built to hold six blimps. For scale, the hangar ran 1,000 feet long, 300 feet wide and more than 200 feet high. The base brought new neighbors, too. Many who came to work at the station stayed or later returned to Hitchcock.

Canals, new cities and the storms

Four towns incorporate, homes on the Bayou Vista canals go on sale, and Hurricane Ike comes ashore.

The Highland name turns up again next door, where La Marque was first known as Highland Bayou and grew along the Galveston, Houston and Henderson rail line. It had a nickname for a while, too. During the Civil War, soldiers traveling between Galveston and Houston bought buttermilk here, earning the stop the name Buttermilk Station. Later, La Marque voted to incorporate in 1953 after Texas City tried to annex it. Hitchcock incorporated in 1960, and the wartime skyline didn't last much longer. After hurricane damage in 1961, the hangar was torn down.

Closer to home, Bayou Vista is a waterfront community built along a series of dredged canals that reach Galveston Bay and the Gulf, and homes in the new coastal development were being sold by the early 1960s. Across the water, neighboring Tiki Island incorporated as a village in 1982, and Tiki Island's canal streets carry Polynesian-themed names. Bayou Vista incorporated as a city on January 19, 1985. Hurricane Ike came ashore at Galveston on September 13, 2008, as a Category 2 hurricane, and the Weather Service estimated Ike's surge on the west side of Galveston Bay at 10 to 15 feet.

HISTORY

The 1912 causeway

One crossing carried a highway, an interurban line and trains to Galveston Island, and it rode out the hurricane that followed.

Bayou Vista is close to the island but not on it. The city sits near West Galveston Bay, Jones Lake and Highland Bayou, about eight miles west-northwest of Galveston. Getting onto the island has always meant getting across the bay, and that's the job the old causeway took on. Work on the Galveston Causeway began in July 1909, and it was dedicated on May 25, 1912. The 1912 causeway carried a highway, an interurban electric line and railroad tracks across the bay, all on one crossing.

It didn't take long for a storm to test it. The concrete arches and steel drawbridge came through the 1915 hurricane with only slight damage. Decades later, the 1912 causeway was listed in the National Register of Historic Places in 1976. Next time you head into town for dinner on The Strand or a walk on the Seawall, you'll cross the same stretch of bay the old causeway spans.

Up the bay and worth the drive: Space Center Houston, the Kemah Boardwalk, a bayou nature preserve and a flight museum.

1 Space Center Houston

WHERE 1601 East NASA Parkway | COST adult tickets (12 and up) run $29.95 to $39.95 online, kids 4 to 11 run $24.95 to $34.95, and kids 3 and younger get in free | FROM HOME 18.0 miles ^{166,167,168,169,170}
HOURS vary by date, with weekends usually 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Hours and tickets

Directions

Space Center Houston is the official visitor center of NASA Johnson Space Center, with more than 400 artifacts, exhibits and experiences in a 250,000-square-foot complex.

Start at Independence Plaza, an eight-story landmark. Then walk through the Starship Gallery, with the Apollo 17 command module and a moon rock you can touch.

Save time for tram tours that last 60 to 90 minutes, with the Historic Mission Control tour at an extra cost. Just know that strollers aren't allowed on the tram (there's stroller parking by the queue), and parking is $10 plus a service fee.

2 Kemah Boardwalk

WHERE 8 Kemah Boardwalk | COST an all-day ride pass covering 13 rides costs $23.99 for riders under 48 inches and $29.99 for 48 inches and up | FROM HOME 15.9 miles ^{171,172,173,174}
HOURS rides run on a seasonal schedule that changes month to month

Rides and passes

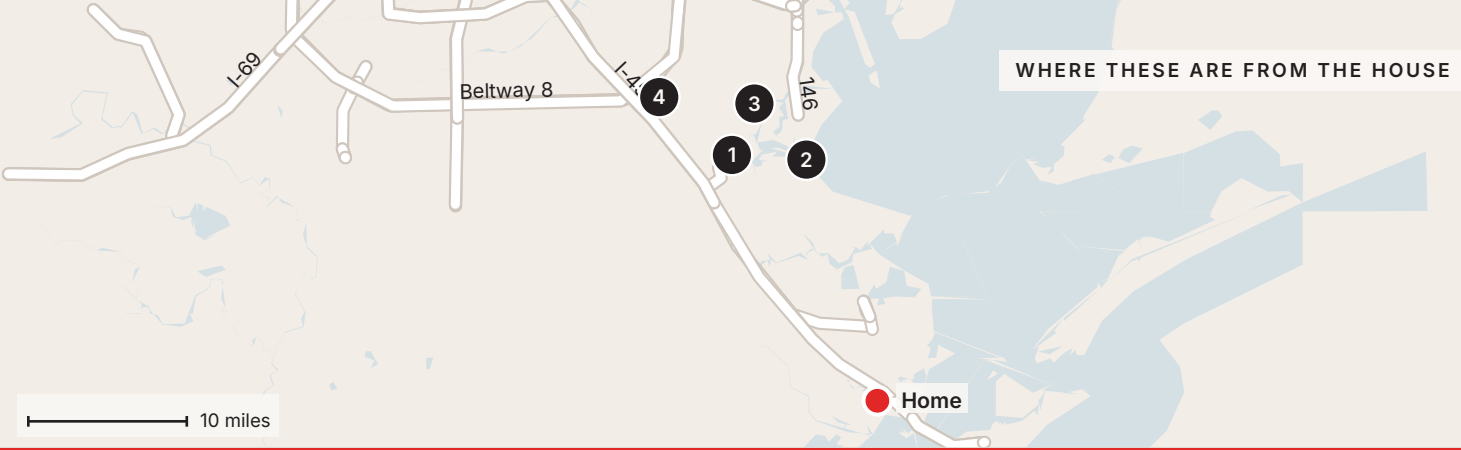

Directions

Up the bay in Kemah, the Boardwalk has waterfront restaurants, rides, shops, festivals and seaside shows on Galveston Bay.

Ride the Boardwalk Bullet coaster, 96 feet tall with a 92-foot first drop and speeds over 51 miles per hour, or take it slower on a 65-foot Ferris wheel and a double-decker carousel.

To get out on the water, try the Boardwalk Beast, a 25-minute speedboat ride about 4 miles out into Galveston Bay at up to 40 miles per hour. Boardwalk Beast tickets are $27, or $22 with a ride wristband. Then stop by Stingray Reef, where you can touch and feed live stingrays.

3 Armand Bayou Nature Center

WHERE 8500 Bay Area Boulevard | COST $7 for ages 13 to 59, $5 for ages 4 to 12 and 60 and up, and free for 3 and under | FROM HOME 20.3 miles ^{175,176,177}
HOURS Wednesday through Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday noon to 5 p.m., last entry at 4 p.m.; closed Monday and Tuesday

Hours and admission

Directions

Armand Bayou Nature Center covers more than 4,300 acres of wetland forest, prairie and marsh, home to over 370 species of birds, mammals, reptiles and amphibians.

On foot, you get 5 miles of walking trails, including the Discovery Loop boardwalk and a bison viewing platform.

Programs include pontoon boat cruises, guided kayak tours and owl prowls. Leave the dog at home, because no pets are allowed.

4 Lone Star Flight Museum

WHERE 11551 Aerospace Avenue | COST $18 for adults, $15 for youth 12 to 17 and seniors, $12 for kids 5 to 11, and free for 4 and under | FROM HOME 23.6 miles ^{178,179,180,181}
HOURS Tuesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday noon to 5 p.m.

Hours and tickets

Directions

At the Lone Star Flight Museum, the planes stay indoors in the Heritage and Waltrip hangars, 60,000 air-conditioned square feet holding the aircraft collection.

Don't skip the Texas Aviation Hall of Fame, honoring 100 people and groups from Bessie Coleman to the Tuskegee Airmen.

For something hands-on, head to a Space Gallery with a NASA shuttle crew compartment trainer and a shuttle motion base simulator. There's free on-site parking, too.

Wildlife refuges and Houston museums

A roseate spoonbill Photo: Steve Hillebrand, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, public domain

Two wildlife refuges and a bird rookery along the coast, plus two of the big museums in Houston.

1 Brazoria National Wildlife Refuge

WHERE 2022 County Road 227 | WHEN the Discovery Center at Big Slough opens Friday through Sunday from November through April, as volunteers allow | FROM HOME 28.9 miles ^{182,183}
HOURS daily, sunrise to sunset

Plan a visit

Directions

Brazoria National Wildlife Refuge covers 44,413 acres of coastal marsh and prairie, and it's free. Take the car out on the Big Slough auto tour, 7.5 miles on a gravel road that's also open to bikes, or walk the 1.5-mile Big Slough Trail, a boardwalk loop from the visitor center through wetlands, woods and prairie. The refuge counts more than 320 bird species and 95 species of reptiles and amphibians.

2 Jocelyn Nungaray National Wildlife Refuge

WHERE 4017 FM 563 | FROM HOME 38.2 miles ¹⁸⁴
HOURS daily, sunrise to sunset

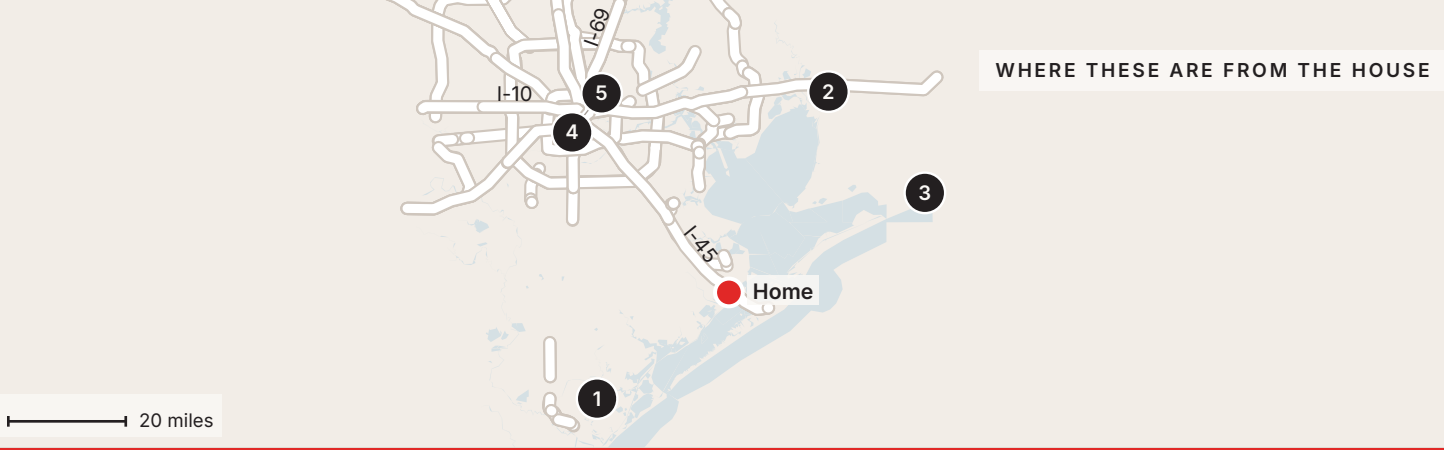

Plan a visit

Directions

Jocelyn Nungaray National Wildlife Refuge is the refuge long known as Anahuac National Wildlife Refuge, renamed in 2025. Entry is free. Drive the 2.64-mile Shoveler Pond auto loop, a good bet for alligators, with a short boardwalk. Bring binoculars for the large, varied flocks of waterfowl in fall and winter. The refuge also runs a Visitor Center on FM 563 with wetland displays, Junior Ranger badges and the Airboat Theater. Anglers come for wade fishing along the shoreline and freshwater fishing on the bayous.

3 Smith Oaks Bird Sanctuary

WHERE 2205 Old Mexico Road | COST $10 for a day pass or $35 for a patch good for a year of visits | FROM HOME 37.4 miles ^{185,186}

Sanctuary page

Directions

HOURS open year-round from dawn to dusk through the Winnie Street entrance; the Old Mexico Road gate opens daily March 1 to May 15 and on weekends from mid-September to mid-October. Out past Bolivar, Smith Oaks Bird Sanctuary covers 177 acres of fields, woods, wetlands and ponds. The draw is a rookery in Claybottom Pond where herons, egrets, cormorants and spoonbills nest and raise their chicks.

4 Houston Museum of Natural Science

WHERE 5555 Hermann Park Drive | COST $25 for adults and $16 for kids 3 to 11 and seniors 62 and up | FROM HOME 38.1 miles ^{187,188,189,190}
HOURS Monday through Thursday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday through Sunday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Hours and admission

Directions

Plan on a long visit to the Houston Museum of Natural Science. It has four floors to explore, and the average visit runs more than two hours. See the Morian Hall of Paleontology, home of the T. rex Wyrex, then walk into the Cockrell Butterfly Center, a three-story glass conservatory with a 50-foot waterfall and 1,500 butterflies.

5 Museum of Fine Arts, Houston

WHERE 1001 Bissonnet Street | COST $24 for adults, $20 for seniors and teens 13 to 18, and free for kids 12 and under | FROM HOME 38.4 miles ^{191,192,193}
HOURS Wednesday 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Thursday and Friday 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday 12:30 p.m. to 6 p.m.; closed Monday and Tuesday

Hours and admission

Directions

The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston spreads across a 14-acre campus with three buildings for art. Outside, the PNC Roof Garden, with skyline views, and the Noguchi-designed Cullen Sculpture Garden are free and open to the public.

A Galveston year: fall and winter

The first weeks

The first calls after closing: taxes, power, water and the city.

Homestead exemption ^{204,205}

File for the homestead exemption early. If you own and live in the home, you may qualify for the general residence homestead exemption, and every school district exempts up to $140,000 of a homestead's assessed value.

Water and sewer ²¹⁰

Bayou Vista doesn't bill for this one, because water and sewer come from Galveston County MUD No. 12, reachable at (409) 935-6111. That's a municipal utility district. Call before move-in day to put the account in your name.

Storm season and flood insurance

Living on the water means a hurricane plan, a windstorm policy and a separate flood policy.

Hurricane season ^{212,213,215,216}

Know your zone before storm season starts. Galveston County sorts hurricane evacuation zones by ZIP code, and 77563 is listed in the Coastal Zone. Each season, check that your evacuation zone and route maps carry the current year's date.

Windstorm insurance ^{217,218}

The Texas Windstorm Insurance Association offers windstorm and hail insurance to coastal property owners when private insurers won't. Keep in mind that windstorm policies don't cover storm surge or flood, so flood insurance is a separate policy.

Windstorm eligibility

Windstorm insurance (TDI)

Flood insurance ^{219,220}

Look up the flood zone before you buy: FEMA's Flood Map Service Center is the official source for flood maps, searchable by address. Keep in mind most homeowners insurance does not cover flood damage, so flood coverage is a separate policy, and there's no waiting period when you buy the policy as part of getting, increasing, extending or renewing a mortgage.

SETTLING IN

License, plates and voting

Swap the license, register the car first, then sign up to vote.

Texas driver license ²²¹

Moving from another state? New residents can drive on a valid out-of-state license for up to 90 days after moving to Texas. Do the car first, then bring proof of Texas vehicle registration and insurance for each vehicle you own.

New-resident driver license

New to Texas checklist

Vehicle registration ^{222,223}

The clock starts on moving day. Register your vehicle within 30 days of moving to Texas. In order, get Texas insurance and a state inspection first, then title and register in person at the county tax office.

Register your vehicle

County tax office

Voter registration ^{224,225}

Register to vote through the county, and get it done early. Register by the 30th day before Election Day. Questions? The Galveston County Clerk is the county's voter registrar, at the Records and Elections Center in Texas City, (409) 766-2280.

GETTING AROUND

Buses, a park and ride and a library

Buses to Texas City and the island, a park and ride for the commute, and the Hitchcock library.

Gulf Coast Transit and the Texas City Park & Ride

WHERE 1415 33rd Street N | WHEN buses on The Splash run Monday through Saturday between this terminal and the Galveston Island Transit terminal on The Strand, leaving Texas City on the hour | FROM HOME 4.8 miles ^{231,232}

Catch the bus to Galveston from this Texas City terminal. For the work commute, the park and ride to UTMB Galveston runs weekdays and costs $2 each way from Texas City, and drivers do not carry change, so bring exact fare.

Routes & schedules

Directions

Island Transit

WHERE 2418 Strand Street | FROM HOME 9.1 miles ²³³

On the island, let someone else drive. Island Transit runs weekday and Saturday bus routes across the island, scheduled rubber-wheel trolleys on the Seawall Route and Downtown Loop, and the street-rail trolley on weekends.
