A CLUB WITH A DIFFERENT FEEL

Because We’re Not Like All the Others…

Drive across America and you’ll see thousands of golf courses and country clubs. But you won’t find anything quite like Spring Creek Country Club.

While big developments try to “create” a feeling of being somewhere special, Spring Creek is the real thing. We invite you to see why city slickers and country folks alike want to be part of this club.

Let us share a little history to help you appreciate how we got here and, more importantly, stayed here for almost 100 years. Fifty founding members started Spring Creek in 1919. They formed a club that would be member-owned and where members would share their time, talent, and donations for the good of the cause.

They used mules in 1920 to help build the dam and lake. They passed the hat and pooled their money to build the first clubhouse—more like a cottage with a screened-in porch. Then they built a swimming pier, which became the unofficial social gathering spot for generations of members. The golf course followed, along with establishing lots around the lake where members could get a 99-year lease on property for a dwelling.

Over the years, we’ve rebuilt the clubhouse, added a pool and tennis courts, and improved the golf course. But we’ve done all this while protecting the natural beauty of our 530 acres. No big-city management companies—just our members, who appreciate the opportunity to be part of this place.

Friends That Become Family

THE SPRING CREEK EXPERIENCE

A Quiet Little Place to Call Your Own...

Once you spend a little time in a front porch rocker thinking about all there is to do at Spring Creek, you'll be hooked. Enjoy the view and see all we have to offer:

A 90-acre lake that caters to all the wishes of our members: a well-stocked fish population, access for skiing on specified days, and protected days for slow-moving canoes, paddle boards, and fishermen.

Nine holes of golf carved out of the pine forest where you'll never see a house, never need a tee time, and your kids can learn to play.

A swimming pool and cabana just steps from the clubhouse, where the best of down-home cooking joins forces with upscale dining specials.

Two lighted tennis courts, our historic swimming pier and beach, play area, pavilion, and firepit, plus 530 heavily wooded acres free for roaming.

And finally, a home or cabin with easy access to it all.

All this in the peace and quiet of East Texas. And we don't share it with the masses. By limiting our membership to 200 Stock and Associate Members, we guarantee there will always be room for you and your family.
