2. The approval required of the Developer under the terms of these Restrictive Covenants shall be exercised by The Boulders, L.L.C. or such person or entity as it may designate in writing. Any reference in these Covenants to Developer shall refer to The Boulders, L.L.C. or such person or entity as it may designate in writing.

3. Pursuant to § 614.25, Code of Iowa, the filing of such Verified Claim shall cause these covenants to be extended for an additional twenty-one (21) term from the date of such filing.

Each lot owner, with the exception of Outlot “A” and Outlot “B”, shall automatically become a member of Tiffin Heights Homeowners Association and shall be subject to assessment to carry out the purposes of the Association. The personal obligation for delinquent assessments shall not pass to any successors in title unless expressly assumed by such successor, but the lien therefore shall remain until foreclosed or released.

soil erosion plan (including monitoring and record keeping) as it applies to the lot for the period of time after the delivery of a Deed for such lot, and to release Developer from any other obligation for environmental matters for the period of time after delivery of a Deed. Any party that accepts a Deed for any lot or part thereof who fails to cooperate with Developer, fails to execute documentation to relieve Developer from responsibility for soil erosion or fails to comply with the lawful requirements for control of soil erosion shall be obligated to hold Developer harmless from all liability, costs and expense, including reasonable attorney fees, arising from such failure by such party.

8. Developer may, at any time prior to the time at which Developer no longer owns any of the real estate, subject additional property which is contiguous to the real estate to these Protective Covenants and Restrictions by written instrument filed in the records of Johnson County, Iowa.

ARTICLE III - ZERO LOT LINE RULES & REGULATIONS

In addition to the foregoing covenants, the following protective covenants and restrictions apply to Lots 1–27 and 31–39 in Tiffin Heights – Part One zoned for “Zero Lot Line” dwellings, and shall be binding upon all of the present and future owners thereof as covenants running with the land:

1. The common wall connecting the two laterally attached dwelling units shall be a party wall and the owner of each dwelling unit shall have the right to use said wall jointly with the owner of the other dwelling unit as provided by Iowa law, subject to the terms hereof.

2. Except as otherwise provided herein, all elements, including but not limited to utilities, water, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, and driveways, shall be separate utilities and the owner of a dwelling unit shall have no right to use said elements jointly with the owner of the other dwelling unit.

3. Each Zero Lot Line dwelling unit is subject to a reciprocal easement, extending five feet on either side of the common boundary line for utilities, for the benefit of the Zero Lot Line dwelling unit with which it shares a common wall.

4. If the common wall or any element therein, is damaged or destroyed or requires maintenance, repair or replacement for any reason, the owner of each dwelling unit shall be jointly and severally liable for the cost of such maintenance, repair or replacement, except that if repair, replacement or restoration is required because of the sole negligent or willful act or omission of the owner of one of the dwelling units, the cost thereof shall be at such owner's sole expense; provided, however, any sum received from insurance coverage shall first be applied to such repair, replacement or restoration. The owner of a dwelling unit may seek indemnification or contribution from any party responsible for damage or destruction.

5. The owner of a dwelling unit shall not alter or change the common wall (interior decorations excepted) or any of the pipes or conduits located therein without the express permission of the owner of the other dwelling unit.

6. The owner of each dwelling unit shall bear the expense of any repairs or replacement of the roof covering his dwelling unit. Each owner shall make all necessary repairs and replacements of his dwelling unit at his own expense in order to maintain the interior, exterior and structural portions of the dwelling unit in good condition. The following provisions shall govern exterior repairs or replacement:

a. The owner of a dwelling unit may replace exterior components of his dwelling unit with similar components of the same design and color but may not, either in the course of ordinary replacement, remodeling or restoration after damage or destruction, employ different siding, roofing material or a different color scheme, for the components of the dwelling unit (including but not limited to the exterior doors and garage door), unless first obtaining the written consent of the owner of the other dwelling unit, which consent may only be given if the variation in siding, roofing material or color scheme is adopted by the owner of the other dwelling unit and if such variation satisfies other restrictive covenants of record.

b. If any dispute arises concerning a change of siding, roofing materials, or color scheme, each party shall choose one arbitrator and such arbitrators shall choose one additional arbitrator, and the decision of the majority of all the arbitrators shall be final and conclusive of the question presented. If either party refuses or fails to promptly appoint an arbitrator, the same may be appointed by any Judge of the District Court of Iowa in and for Johnson County. Arbitration shall be in accordance of the rules of the American Arbitration Association and the cost thereof shall be shared equally by the parties.

7. The owner of each dwelling unit shall insure his dwelling unit for 100% replacement value and the proceeds of such policy shall be used to repair, replace, or restore the damaged premises to the same condition that existed before the loss. The owner of each dwelling unit shall coordinate his insurance policy on the premises with the owner of the other dwelling unit in order to assure there is adequate coverage for the unit and all other common aspects, including, but not limited to utilities, water, sanitary sewers, storm sewers, easements and driveway. The owner of each dwelling unit shall be insured to the extent of his interest in a dwelling unit and any common aspect and should be named as an additional insured on any insurance policy held by the owner of the other dwelling unit. In addition, the mortgagee of each dwelling unit, if any, shall be designated as an insured to the extent of its interest in the dwelling unit, that portion of the insurance proceeds required to replace or repair said common wall or other common aspects shall be paid over to the mortgagee of each respective dwelling unit and shall be distributed by the mortgagee as required to make the repairs or replacement.

8. If the common wall is destroyed or damaged by fire or other casualty or by physical deterioration, any owner may restore it, and shall have an easement over the other dwelling unit for purposes of making such restoration and the owner of the other dwelling unit shall contribute to the cost of restoration thereof on an equal basis, without prejudice, however, to the right of any owner to call for a larger contribution from the other owner under any rule of law regarding liability for acts or omissions.

9. If any portions of a dwelling unit on any Zero Lot Line dwelling unit shall actually encroach upon any other Zero Lot Line dwelling unit, or if any such encroachment shall hereafter arise because of settling or shifting of the building or other cause, there shall be deemed to be an easement in favor of the owner of the encroaching dwelling unit to the extent of such encroachment so long as the same shall exist.

10. If any repairs, installation or other work is required in the external utility easement area described herein the area shall be returned to the condition prior to such work at the expense of the owner(s) of the dwelling unit(s) benefited by the work. The owner(s) of the dwelling units benefited by the work shall be responsible for the cost of such work, and the cost of repairing damage to the utilities in the easement area and to the dwelling units. All work shall be done in workmanlike fashion by appropriately licensed personnel. The owner of a dwelling unit may seek indemnification or contribution from any party for the cost of the work.

11. The owner of each dwelling unit agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the owner of the other dwelling unit for any mechanic's liens arising from work done or materials supplied to make repairs or replacements for which said owner is responsible.
